FOREIGN.

Poincare announces France will begin next year a wall of super-forts on northern frontier to cost billions of francs. Intends to avenge against another violation of Belgium. Page 1.

France's enormous credits for reconstructing the devastated regions, I must inscribe items for applying military measures, which must precede the reducing of the military training to one year, for the reconstitution of our revision, supply and defensive organization on the frontiers." M. Poincare said.

A series of giant forts like those bordering France from the east—Belgium, Metz, Toul, and Verdun—will be constructed along the north frontier and through the Ardennes.

"Besides the enormous credits for reconstructing the devastated regions, I must inscribe items for applying military measures, which must precede the reducing of the military training to one year, for the reconstitution of our revision, supply and defensive organization on the frontiers." M. Poincare said.

FRANCE SURPRISED BY PLANS.

The announcement of the plan to begin fortifying at once created great surprise, as, while the general staff, since the war, has consistently demanded security from another German onslaught across Belgium, it was believed that political circles preferred to wait another ten years or so, believing there was no likelihood of any imminent conflict.

A series of giant forts like those bordering France from the east—Belgium, Metz, Toul, and Verdun—will be constructed along the north frontier and through the Ardennes.

"Besides the enormous credits for reconstructing the devastated regions, I must inscribe items for applying military measures, which must precede the reducing of the military training to one year, for the reconstitution of our revision, supply and defensive organization on the frontiers." M. Poincare said.

SEEING GERMANY AS MESSIAH.

The speech, which was considered the most important which the premier had made since last summer, when he became head of the government, repeated the families' complaints against Germany's failure sincerely to execute the Versailles treaty and disarm faithfully, and declared France does not expect further reparations than the Dusseldorf plan provides.

The premier threw a broad hint to President Coolidge on France's attitude toward the naval conference.

"We cannot sacrifice the independence, rights and guarantees conferred to us in the peace and as France is a member as well as a terrestrial power, it must conserve on the seas, as well as land, the means of defense against aggressors," he said.

GERMANY DEBT TO U. S.

Ignoring the American and British debts, Premier Poincare traced the history of the country's financial affairs since he assumed power. He warned the people that they must accept heavy sacrifices in the form of taxation, but assured them the 1928 budget will not provide additional income.

M. Poincare continued silent on whether he intends legally to stabilize the franc at the present quotation of 2 to the dollar.

The premier severely rapped the communists, blamed Russia's intrusion into France's domestic affairs, and warned Moscow of drastic measures if Soviets in fomenting trouble.

VERSIFICATION SCHEME CHEERED.

But the crux of the speech was the notifications, the announcement of which attracted great applause, despite the warning of their vast cost.

Prior to 1914 France had not fortified the northern frontier opposite Belgium and Luxembourg, because these territories were protected by neutrality agreements which Germany had signed. Since the "scrap of paper" incident and Belgium's decision not to fortify the Meuse crossings, because of the tremendous expense and possibility of invaders violating the Dutch neutrality in Limburg province, the French general staff repeatedly has demanded that the government safeguard the northern gateways and modernize the eastern gates at Verdun and Toul and the former German fortresses of Metz, Belfort, and Strasbourg.

The plan also envisages the establishment of fortified works right south to the Mediterranean, including the Alpine region along the Italian boundary, which in the winter was heavily reinforced with French troops, artillery, tanks, and armored cars, when unoffical bands of French were roaming along the Italian side.

It was announced following the meeting that Secretary Hoover, Acting Chairman Fisher, and Maj. Gen. Jodwin would leave Washington Thursday morning to return to the flood area, going first to general Red Cross relief headquarters in Memphis.

CHICAGO SENDS $300,000

Just as Chicago had passed the half-way mark yesterday and was entering on the home stretch in the race to raise $750,000 for relief of the more than 200,000 homeowners in the Mississippi valley, advices from Washington were received here, conveying the probability that the local quota would be doubled in order to cope successfully with the stupendous need that exists.

Up to 6 o'clock last night no word had arrived with instructions to James B. Fagan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, to make such an announcement, but it was believed possible it would not be long delayed.

With $331,251.46 as the grand total of the Association of Commerce and Red Cross funds with more than $35,000 in March, the city's fund, along with many additional thousands available in the offices of radio stations that have been helping out with the campaign, there was well over $375,000 in cash on hand last night.

$300,000 Sent Out.

The first installment of this amount, $200,000, was sent on its way to the national headquarters of the American Red Cross at Washington, to be turned over immediately for supplies and emergency relief.

Largest amounts received yesterday at the Association of Commerce included:

NEW ORLEANS SAFE; BACK WATER IS PARISHES' PERIL

River Rivers Unloading Into Mississippi.

New Orleans, La., May 2.—(AP)—
With flood and backwater from five rivers was reaching out today in five northeastern and east central Louisiana parishes, the torrent flowing through the huge artificial crevasses
made in the Mississippi river levee and of course apparently had removed danger from New Orleans.
Serious situations to the northward were reported, with thousands already made homeless and many others thousands now in the path of the floods ready to evacuate to high ground.
Some improvement in the flood conditions both in southeastern Arkansas and Mississippi was reported, where most apparently over, and officials were turning their chief attention to evacuation and to recondition after the flood waters had receded.

Red River Sunshines Through.

With the Mississippi waters rushing down into Concordia parish from four breaks in the embankment south of Vidalia, the Red river smashed through its northern bank at Vicksburg, east of Alexandria, inundating a part of Avoyelles parish to the south of Concordia.
Meeting this rising water is that coming down from the Arkansas river in Arkansas. A special bulletin issued yesterday said Jones and Bonita in Moreau parish were under water, with Marie Rouge and Oak Ridge threatened, and one thousand refugees already in Barrel.

Arkansas river waters also have reached into Tensas parish, inundating two miles of Missouri Pacific railroad tracks above Newellton. In Richland parish the water was reported six feet high at Bardet, with Rayville threat- ened.

Lake Providence Threatened.

South water also was going into East
Carroll parish and later Lake Providence was threatened.
Vidalia and Ferriday were in the line of the main Mississippi flood. Strenuous efforts were being made to throw up temporary dykes around those towns.

The flood from the Ouachita river began moving slowly into Monroe and West Monroe in Ouachita parish, and large amounts of water were held there for some time. The combined population of the two cities is about 30,000.
Cathoula parish, adjoining Concordia, also was feeling the force of high waters, while southward, in Avoyelles some 200 miles, families were obliged to flee from the north side of Moreauville when backwaters from the Mississippi, Red, and Black rivers rose from two to three feet during the day.

Oil and Gas Section Hit.

Bodies inundated by rich cotton,
sugar cane and truck lands, the water
having invaded the oil and gas areas both in northeastern Louisiana and Arkansas. Dispatches from Alexandria said production of both oil and gas was at a standstill.

To the south of this city engineers
continued blasting the Concordia area, and parts of the Bernard and Prairie du Roches parishes were inundated bright, with additional inhabitants moving to high lands.

Preparations for the citizens of this flooded area will be discussed at a meeting called for tomorrow by Gov.
Simpson.

Jadwin Tells Government: Build Levees 5 Feet Higher

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(Special)—Expenditure of more than $100, 000,000 in the construction of levees
in the Mississippi valley will be necessary, if another disaster is to be averted, Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, army chief of engineers, reported to Secretary of War Davis today on his return to Washington.

Gen. Jadwin said that New Orleans was now safe as the result of the blasting of the levee below the city, but expressed concern over the safety of the territory below Vicksburg and in parts of Louisiana. He said 8,000 square miles of land almost 500,000 acres had been flooded and that 30,000 would be inundated if no further work was done for the levee work of the engineers during the last few years.

According to Gen. Jadwin, the levee walls should be built five feet higher.
When the levees are now an average of twenty-two feet high he would have them raised to an average of at least twenty-six feet.

Gen. Jadwin said most much of the present disaster could have been averted
if more money for levee construction work had been placed at the disposal of the army engineers. He also pointed out that some of the states, now failing to appropriate the third of the levee costs as required by congress, had fallen behind in levee construction.

"The time has come," said Gen. Jadwin today, "when this country must act ahead and construct levees in the Mississippi valley which will hold the floods."

The situation that will be presented between Angola and New Orleans
as the flood crest moves down past Natchez, armies of men continued work today toppling and strengthening the levees along that section.

Several threatened breaks north of Angola were reported, with the greatest danger point the 10 miles south of Vidalia, opposite Natchez, where a huge sand boil threatened a collapse.

Several hundred workers were rushed to the place and late today engineers reported the danger had been overcome, for the present at least.

The weather bureau here gave warning that the flood waters from crevasses in the east bank of the river below Vidalia were moving southward towards the Red river and also spreading northward and westward. That going back into the Red river will again pass into the Mississippi, increasing the danger below the mouth of the Red to New Orleans.

Still Rising at Vicksburg.

This same weather bureau bulletin said the Black river was steadily rising and that the Mississippi at Vicksburg still was rising as a result of the flood waters now protecting the river through the Yazoo river.

Below Vicksburg the river was stationary or falling slightly, due to the crevasses below Vidalia. At New Orleans the gauge showed a drop of one-tenth of a foot, and this was expected to continue as the Caenarvon crevasse widened.

WIDOW DEFIDENT UNDER GRILLING IN SNYDER TRIAL

account with her husband. Of this she was certain.

"Ruth Snyder, did you love your husband?" barked Froessel.

"Now, but I didn't hate him," snarled the widow.

"Would you care to see him murdered?" Froessel pursued.

"Yes," was the reply.

Froessel returned to interrogation regarding Albert Snyder's heavy insurance. He asked her if she had "talked it over with Judd" and the woman admitted she had. Last summer, she said, Judd became interested in her husband's insurance and asked her what kind and how much he carried. She told him of the big policy.

"It was about this time that Judd Gray first began talking of 'putting the governor away,' was it not?" she was asked.

"It was," she agreed.

Quibble Over Card.

Long and detailed quibbling followed regarding a mass of figures on the back of a card. These figures, the witness admitted, referred to her husband's insurance and were in her handwriting, but what they meant—anything—she could not recall. The date was certain that they represented Mrs. Snyder's attempt to figure out just how much money she would get if her husband met death by accident or violence.

Froessel drew out an odd contradiction in the widow's testimony—and admission of it. She insisted for a moment that she was not certain that she was the beneficiary under the policy. A moment later she admitted that she had known since the day the policy was issued that she would get double $50,000 if her husband died accidentally.

Takes Refuge in Anger.

At times during the afternoon the murder trial took on the aspect of a civil suit. Froessel kept hammering away at the witness with her dry mathematics. She sought to answer for a while, then, hemmed by figures, took refuge in anger.

"Yes," she would scowlingly reply to almost anything that was asked for. Occasionally, she would say "No." Just as often she would burst out and would mark a place on her ever-ready sheet of paper and refer back to it. She would study it carefully and reply, "Yes, I see it now."

If she did, she saw things the jury did not. One member of that group grew so bored that he nodded twice.

Then Froessel turned to lighter moments in the Long Island housewife's life.

Motives Through Fibration.

Yes, she met Judd Gray through a fibration, but it was not a "pickup." Her girl friend did flirt with Judd's boy friend and "got picked up" after his introduction to Judd which followed was in accord with the best parlor rules.

Froessel carried her on through her growing friendship with Gray. Then he said: "So, each time you met him you made a date; the second time you got a concert, and the third time you stayed all night with him?"

"Yes, that's right," Mrs. Snyder agreed.

Froessel brought in the names of several men, concerning her relations with whom he asked Mrs. Snyder specifically. In each case she denied the relationship had been other than casual.

But Froessel was not through regarding men. "Why don't you think Gray was interested in it? He knew he never could marry you, didn't he?"

Knew He Could Get Insurance.

Mrs. Snyder agreed, but she was certain Gray could have gotten the insurance out of her—just like he got everything else out of her.

She said: "I do not know if he did have any trouble of any consequence with Judd Gray—except on one occasion. That trouble was brought out only after bitter grilling."

Judd Gray threatened to tell the world about their relations one day last summer after she had told him she was "going to break off" with him. They patched things up again, she explained, and she never did "have any fear of Judd" until the night he saw him kill his husband.

"Is it not a fact that your story of his threat to expose you is made out of whole cloth," Froessel demanded suddenly.

"I wouldn't say that," Mrs. Snyder responded, calmly enough.

Resumes Grilling Tomorrow.

Tomorrow Froessel will resume his interrogation of the Widow Snyder from that point on. She still has to face questioning regarding the actual murderer, and Froessel will let her into the shunting chambers with more interest for her emotions than she has been led on either of her other journeys.

Judd Gray parked up a bit with his new haircut and freshly pressed suit this morning, but long before night his shoulders had slumped and he was again enveloped in the mantle of gloom that had been worn so successfully since the trial. The day on the stand may come tomorrow, but it is more likely that he will not be called before Wednesday.

Tomorrow Lorraine, the 9 year old daughter of Mrs. Snyder and the stain art editor, will be offered as a witness when her mother is back in her chair by her counsel's side. After all, Froessel's lawyer's counsel will call several other character witnesses and then it is expected that the dejected corset salesman will be called to tell his sordid story of how Ruth Snyder lured him, loved him, and sent him in to butcher his husband.

His story is expected to be sensational in its dealing with his affair with the woman he called "Momie."

FACES GRAY'S ATTORNEY

When court opened in the morning Mrs. Snyder was represented by her counsel, Attorney Haselton. He had her to state that before she signed her confession, which she has since repudiated, she was told by the police

"Momie" Letters Call Gray "Darn, Lovable Little Cuss"

New York, May 1.—[Special.]—Two "Momie" letters from Mrs. Ruth Snyder to Henry Judd Gray were read into the record today at their trial for the murder of Ruth's husband, Albert Snyder, art editor.

The first was dated Feb. 24, a month before the marriage.

"My Own Love Boy: 'Gee, but I am happy, O, ain't I happy. Tomorrow is my lucky day. I am so very happy I cannot sit still enough to write you what I am thinking of. You will excuse it this time, too, won't you, hon? Went down to the movies in Q's and 'Johnny Get Your Hair Cut. Jackie's' and I think I had a marvelous action."

"I was good writing," Ha, ha.

Hurry Home, Darling:

"All I keep thinking of is U. and you are a darn lovable little cuss. I could eat you up, could I get ill and put out this blouse what is so much bother me. Ah, yes, hon, let us get good and plastered. To think you are already ready on you, nothing. Hurry home, darling. I will be waiting for you. All my love. YOUR MOMIE."

The second letter told of Mrs. Snyder's experiences in going to an apartment on the east side with a man in order to let his wife look them over.

and got grounds for divorce. The letter, presumably to Gray, also expressed her deep love for Judd. It read:

"Sweetheart Mine: Well, darling, the 'whole works' went over beautifully. Of course, it was all rearranged and we all took place at 101 East 14th Street. The worst was to death, and if you ever saw the woman you'd die of fright, too—such a cold blooded way of doing things—but it went over as intended and we were five in all, just witnesses—that was plenty, too.

Call Husband Darn Fool.

"Had another battle with the G—darn fool. I'm mad.

"Tried to set M. to go to H. B. for a day or two, so that my chances for Friday will be better for staying over. Do you really want . . . me, dear, to stay? Wouldn't you rather go right on home, so that you'll be nearer the bank on Saturday? Yes, you do?

"Please don't put yourself out for me dear. I know you just as much as you need to be for me. Maybe we shouldn't be quite so extravagant."

"Sweetheart, dear, I love you with all my heart and soul 'cause you're the dearest and bestest kid I have ever had."

"Much love. All yours, Momie."

that Gray had confessed. She said Gray had asked her to invest in the corset firm for which Gray traveled, but that she refused to do so.

Her cross-examination was then begun by Attorney Millard for Gray. Millard started with the blunt question:

"Why didn't you place a bottle of whisky under the pillow in your mother's room that night?"

"Because [Gray] asked me to," was the reply.

Explains Keeping Weight.

Early in the examination, Millard began to press on a sensitive point. He asked why after receiving the smash weight—the murder instrument—from Gray she had not thrown it away instead of returning it to Gray. She explained that the weight belonged to Gray. She added that she had placed the weight in the basement with every intention of giving it back to Gray. "But why didn't you throw it away?" Millard inquired.

"Because he gave it to me, and I thought I could talk him out of it. I used to use it," Mrs. Snyder said.

"When did you first meet Gray after receiving the smash weight?"

The witness said the next meeting was on March 7 at her back door. At that time, she said, Gray expressed the determination that she must go through with the plans, but that she told him she could not.

"Q.—And did you warn your husband? A.—No, I did not.

Wanted to Prevent Disgrace.

"Because he gave it to me, and I thought I could talk him out of it after the use of it," Mrs. Snyder said.

"When did you first meet Gray after receiving the smash weight?"

The witness said the next meeting was on March 7 at her back door. At that time, she said, Gray expressed the determination that she must go through with the plans, but that she told him she could not.

"Q.—And did you warn your husband? A.—No, I did not.

Thought He Had Given Up Plan.

"Q.—Why not? A.—I didn't believe Gray wanted to kill him, at least I thought I could talk him out of it. Also I was ashamed of the disgrace that would result if I told my husband I didn't want to create a disturbance."

Millard next put the question which is admittedly vital one to her case: why did she leave the door open for Judd Gray on the murder night?

"Because I thought that I came home I could still talk Judd Gray out of the idea, and I was going to have it out with him, that I did not want to have him around me any more," was the widow's answer.

"Q.—From your previous conversation with him you had learned, had you not, that he wanted to kill your husband? A.—He spoke of it several times, yes."

Admits Leaving Door Open.

"Q.—You were afraid that he would? A.—I knew he would."

"Q.—And yet you left the rear door open for Judd Gray to enter your home while you and your husband were at Fitzgerald's party? A.—Yes."

"Q.—Did your husband drink heavily that night at the bridge party preceding the murder? A.—No, I would not."

"Q.—Did you pass any glass of liquor which was served to you to your husband? A.—I asked the people who served the drink to give my share to my husband."

"Q.—Did you pass any glass of liquor which was served to you to your husband? A.—I asked the people who served the drink to give my share to my husband."

"Q.—You expected to find Judd Gray there when you returned home? A.—Yes, because he said, 'Leave the back doors open. I don't know what train I can get that will bring me in there; but leave the door open and I will come in on my motorcycle.'

"Q.—Why didn't you send him word to stay away? A.—Because he had been sending me letters telling me of this thing that he had planned, or was planning, and I made up my mind that I was going to see him and break it off right then as it was."

Never Worried Husband.

"Q.—Did you at any time that evening, Mrs. Snyder, warn your husband or say a word to him about Judd Gray? A.—Not at all."

"Q.—Isn't it a fact, Mrs. Snyder, that you made several attempts to kill your husband? A.—No, I did not."

"Q.—Now, Mrs. Snyder, will you tell me just what you did on the night of the murder from the time you went to the house until the time that Mrs. Malhamer came and found you tied up."

"Q.—Was that an accident, Ruth Snyder? A.—That was a positive accident. I couldn't help it."

Mrs. Snyder denied putting a bicarbonate of mercury tablet in his medicine at another time, or that she had filed the label off a bicarbonate of mercury bottle.

"Q.—Is it not a fact, Mrs. Snyder, that you made several attempts to kill your husband? A.—No, I did not."

"Q.—Now, Mrs. Snyder, will you tell me just what you did on the night of the murder from the time you went to the house until the time that Mrs. Malhamer came and found you tied up."

"Q.—But you sat and listened to Judd Gray plan a method of throwing the police off the scent? A.—I did not know what it was all about. I was too confused myself."

"Q.—Now, it is not a fact, Mrs. Snyder, that you made several attempts to kill your husband? A.—No, I did not."

"Q.—Now, Mrs. Snyder, will you tell me just what you did on the night of the murder from the time you went to the house until the time that Mrs. Malhamer came and found you tied up?"

"Q.—Are you going through with it?"

"Q.— Didn't you say 'It must take place tonite'? A.—I never said that; I never did."

"Q.—And where do you think Gray got the acid weight?"

"The witness didn't know. Nor would she admit that Gray had carried the weight into the victim's room while she followed into the room with the chloroform and wire.

"Q.—Does Seizing Slaying.

"Q.—Now, Ruth Snyder, after Judd Gray struck your husband with the weight, did you drop the weight? A.—I did not; I was not noticing at all."

"Q.— Didn't you pick up the weight and hit your husband on the head with it? A.—I did not."

"Q.— Didn't you throw the chloroform onto the pillow? A.—I did not."

"Q.—And didn't you tie the wire around your husband's neck?"

"A.—I certainly did not."

"Millard asked whether Mrs. Snyder had any intimacies with other men than Gray. She denied indignantly that she had. Then the attorney had her identify the confession which she repudiated. She admitted her signature.

"Will you kindly take the alleged confession and point to the jury what parts, if any, are true?" Millard asked.

Mrs. Snyder went over the confession, reading only the parts she had admitted on the stand.

"I did not," was the reply.

"Q.—You were sorry that he was true and the rest is false?" Millard asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

This ended Millard's cross-examination.

Court Questions Whom.

Judice Scudder intervened as Hammon walked over for re-direct examination and asked why she had undressed and gone to bed, knowing that Gray was with her.

"I didn't want my husband to know I was going to see Gray."

Then Assistant District Attorney Froessel began the cross-examination for the state.

"Q.—You wanted to get Gray out of the house that night? A.—Yes.

"Q.—Could you have kept him by leaving the door open or not? A.—Yes.

From this time on she continued questioning him about her $4,000 loan to Gray and certain banking matters. The questions then went on:

"Q.—Your husband had full confidence in you, did he not, madame? A.—Yes.

"Q.—And you betrayed that confidence, did you not? A.—No, I did not.

"Q.—Well, you betrayed it with Gray, did you not? A.—Yes.

"Q.—You had improper relations with Gray on her third meeting with him.

Denise Oliver Intimates.

"Q.—You were faithful to your husband until this first time with Gray? A.—Yes.

"Q.—And you don't remember whether it was day or night? A

LITTLE HOPE OF MINERS' RESCUEAttempts Go On to Reach 77 Entombed Men.

Palmerton, W. Va., May 2.—(AP)—Rescuers, fighting against fire and gas in the Everettville mine, in an effort to determine the fate of seventy-seven men who were entombed by an explosion last night, made little progress today, and tonight they had advanced only a short distance toward the point where it is believed the survivors will be found.

With seventeen dead accounted for and rescuers believing the seventy-seven trapped men were killed by the blast or deadly gases, mine experts continued tonight to center their attention on strengthening the brattices used in the explosion rips to channels to insure good air for the rescuers to minimize the danger of another blast from the fire.

Six of Hundred Survive.

An official company check accounted for 100 men in the mine or on the surface when the blast came. Of these, forty-five were white miners and fifty-five negroes. More than half of the entombed men were married, with a total of 105 children. Seventeen bodies have been recovered to date. Sixty-three men got out and are in hospitals.

While the rescuers sought to fight their way back into the far recesses of the workings through smoke and gas, Red Cross representatives and state compensation officials were at work in the little mining village, aiding the bereaved. W. S. Hodge, of the Washington Red Cross, directed the work of rehabilitation.

A meeting will be held in Morgantown tomorrow night to take any steps necessary to help the women and children whose husbands and fathers were lost.

One Official Still Hopes.

A majority of the rescue experts feel there is no hope for the men entombed. But Robert Lambie, chief of the West Virginia mining department, held that the men had a slight chance to brattice themselves in and may be alive.

During the afternoon it was believed the burning section of the mine was located, and a brattice was thrown up, which helped rescue men pushed on in an effort to explore the entire workings.

In contrast to scenes about the mine yesterday, few relatives of the entombed men were out today. A fleet of ambulances and many physicians were on hand ready to carry the stricken to hospitals if they were found alive.

LAKE FOR PARK

Indianaans, Ind., May 2.—(Special)—Hopes hold for several years by conservationists for establishment of a public reservation in the beautiful Duck Creek Park, Indianaans, Indiana, bordering Lake Michigan, were realized tonight with the announcement by Richard Lieber, director of the state conservation department, that the state had purchased 2,000 acres with a lake frontage of three miles.

One thousand acres of the tract was acquired from the heirs of Thomas H. Wells and Stanford White for $500,000. This gives the state the required maximum of 2,000 acres stipulated in the law of 1922 which provided for the purchase and created a special tax levy.

The total cost of the new park was estimated by Lieber to be $1,000,000, with the acquisition of all land contemplated for the park. Lieber said, the conservation department will now turn its attention entirely to improvement of the park facilities.

Most of all, however, they were on hand to congratulate James W. Stevens and Ernest J. Stevens, the father and son, who,

Vast and Efficient.

A vast and efficient tavern it is, with 3,000 guest rooms and a pair of 1,000 employee, with a ballroom, addressed like the palace of Versailles, and a barber shop equipped for the envy of any king who ever lived at Versailles; with St. Gaudens marble panels and Travertine columns above ground, competing with huge refrigerating plants and boiler rooms below ground.

At the Stevens, as the grand opening ed out last night, there were more than 10,000 guests.

All danger to 9 year old John Sheppard Schweppes, against whom a $1,000,000 kidnapping and ransom plot was directed, has passed, Chief of Police Lester Tiffany of Lake Forest and William O'Connor, chief of detectives in Chicago, agreed yesterday.

Chief Tiffany suggested to Charles F. Schweppes, millionaire banker and father of the threatened boy, that the private detectives guarding the Lake Forest home be dismissed and Lake Forest police put on guard. Chief O'Connor said he was disappointed in his men and having had the opportunity to kill the kidnappers.

Chief O'Connor said he had no proof worthy of court presentation that the plotters were acting in the interests of Henry J. Fernekes, an inmate of the Joliet penitentiary recently saved by the Supreme court from being hanged.

He said, though, that he is certain an attempt will be made to kidnap John again.

SWEARS ARMOUR GRAIN OFFICIAL ORDERED FRAUD

Ex-Employee's Story May Cause House Citation.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

George E. Thompson, former superintendent of elevators for the Armour Grain company, was accused yesterday by Frank Crombie, his former assistant at the Northwestern elevator, of having personally ordered the arbitrary raising of grain grades in 1924 and the switching of samples which foiled the Board of Trade sampling department, leading to the subsequent troubles of the Farmers' Grain Marketing company.

Thompson may face the bar of the house of representatives at Springfield as a result of this and his own story, in which he blamed Crombie for the grain frauds and contradicted himself frequently. The judiciary committee of the house is considering this procedure.

Court Battle Impends.

Indications were strong, it was said in an authoritative quarter yesterday, that the Armour Grain company will resort to the courts before paying the $1,600,000 awarded against them in the grain case by Attorney Edward E. Brown, arbitrator. They may file suit to set aside the award, which is set for payment May 10, or may refuse to pay and let the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, the complainant, go into court to collect.

Crombie was examined before the house investigating committee in session at the Fort Dearborn Athletic club. Representative Frank McCarthy was acting chairman and Attorney H. F. Goldstein the examiner.

Crombie said the first arbitrary raising of grain grades took place April 18, 1924, when Thompson came out to the elevator and told him the farmers were entitled to take over the elevator and elevator about May 1. Thompson graded up about 400,000 bushels at that time, he said.

"A Chance to Make Money."

On July 1, he said, after the farmer market had been put off until August 1, Thompson came out to the elevator again, the witness said.

"He told me that here was a chance to make some money for the Armour Grain company. I asked him how and he said he was going to raise the grades. I asked him how and he said 'on the books.'

"Give me a sheet with the stock as of last Saturday," Thompson told me, "and I will show you." I gave him the stock sheet of June 28 and he raised the grades on about two million bushels."

"Did he say any one had sent him a letter?" I asked. George E. Marcy (then president) said, "Yes."

"A week or so later," Crombie testified, "Thompson handed me three orange telegraph slips with figures on them. He said the figures had been given him by Marcy for grading the stock. Thompson said that Marcy had told him that letter had 'pretty near broken his heart.'

Court for Back Alimony

Charles Henry Lott, owner of several hotels, was cited yesterday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court on the allegation of his former wife, Mrs. Cora Adele Lott Meyer, now the wife of Berthel J. Meyer, former director of the American Secret Service bureau, that he is in arrear in payments on the $1,74,400 alimony she won June 8, 1926. The petition for the citation was filed by Special Judge John P. McGuire, who said that Mr. Lott has failed to pay premiums on $100,000 life insurance made out to her and failed to pay $1,000 that was due her April 10.

of the company, was present. This meeting was held in a darkened room, he said, with transoms and windows closed.

Marcy told him at this meeting, he said, that there was a $200,000 loss in prospect for the company and Kellogg expressed dissatisfaction with the elevator, and he, Crombie, went home and resigned.

In his letter of resignation he charged that the grades had been raised and the samples switched, he said. The next day Marcy, Kellogg, and Thompson were all after him. He said he went to see Marcy and Marcy told him that his letter had "pretty near broken his heart."

Court for Back Alimony

Charles Henry Lott, owner of several hotels, was cited yesterday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court on the allegation of his former wife, Mrs. Cora Adele Lott Meyer, now the wife of Berthel J. Meyer, former director of the American Secret Service bureau, that he is in arrear in payments on the $1,74,400 alimony she won June 8, 1926. The petition for the citation was filed by Special Judge John P. McGuire, who said that Mr. Lott has failed to pay premiums on $100,000 life insurance made out to her and failed to pay $1,000 that was due her April 10.

Blame Dry Era-Rum.

Moondshine, he insists, is responsible for the 10,000 subnormal children who prowl the streets and should be locked up—moonsheen made in the home or bought in a neighborhood "joint."

"These are not opinions; they are facts," Mr. Bodine added. "I can prove that many of the tragedies of childhood are due to the rotten booze made in home stills."

Why, only the other day one of my troopers officers entered a home to find both parents dead drunk on the floor of a house dirty as a pig pen, with a half naked baby playing with an empty bottle.

"Before the war when good liquor was available there were fewer morons. The stuff they sell now is slow death. The result has been an astounding increase in the number of weak-minded children."

Cites Marriage Law, Too.

Part of the blame, Mr. Bodine declared, falls squarely on the state marriage law, which he characterized as a "joke of jurisprudence."

"Epileptics, consumptives, habitual drunkards—they all get married, and from this rotten corps of parents we have a sprinkled crew of juvenile morons.

In our work of prosecuting parents in the municipal courts for not sending their children to school hardly a week passes but we find fathers explaining that their wives are feeble minded.

"Some couples are crazy to get married; others are crazy with 'hooch' when they do."

DETROIT RUMMER ADMITS BUSINESS OF $5,000,000

(Chicago Tribune Free Service)

Detroit, Mich., May 2.—C. A. (Sammy) Savard of Detroit, consignee of much of the liquor and beer sent out by the breweries and distilleries on the Canadian border, made his long delayed appearance today before the Canadian royal commission in Windsor, across the river from here. He somewhat astonished the commissioners with the statement that his business amounted to more than $5,000,000 a year. The royal commission is sitting in the city hall at Windsor to investigate the liquor traffic across the border.

Savard's appearance was brought about by the threat that his supplies would be cut off unless he testified. He had expressed reluctance to do so, saying it might open him up to a charge of violating the prohibition law of the United States. In declining him, Newton W. Howell, chief government attorney, refrained from asking what became of the vast quantities of liquor and beer which Savard admitted he purchased for delivery at Windsor.

In Vancouver Company, Savard said he was a partner in Joseph Kennedy, Ltd., an exporting firm of Vancouver, B. C.

Keen eyed, smartly dressed, and about 35, Savard had the appearance of an alert and prosperous young businessman.

He testified his "big central dock" was at La Salle, Ontario, and that there were several other docks at Windsor.

"Who else was associated with you in your Windsor business?"

"I'd rather not say. They are men outside."

Mr. Howell insisted, and the witness named Al Miller, Timothy J. Hogan, Wesley Gibson, and A. J. Kilkis.

Five cars of beer.

After Savard had left the stand several witnesses testified regarding five carloads of liquor which were sent to Detroit under false billings.

William E. Collins, a United States customs officer at Detroit, told of seizing one of the cars.

"I labelled liquor," he said, "and looked inside and found $4 cases of Old Tucker which I knew was supposed to be serving their sentences."

The contents of the car were baled as aluminum and bailed to Chicago.

Colin R. Wilton, another United States customs officer at Detroit, told of seizing a car loaded with beer and ale from Carling's brewery at London, Ont. It was labeled as stove polish and washing powder, he said.

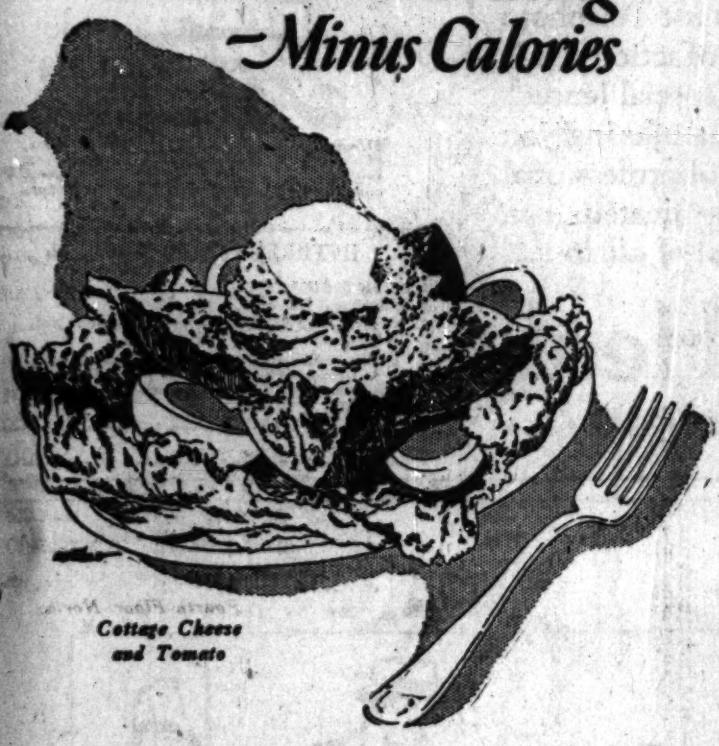

"I never heard of anything wrong with the signature of the customs officer at Black Rock, N. Y.," he said in explanation of the label. "I've seen it too often to be fooled."

The other three cars were not seized, so far as the testimony disclosed. All three came from Carling's brewery at London. One consigned to H. Low of Windsor, left for the United States as sugar. One consigned to J. Jones crossed the river containing goods. The third was consigned to the same yard mentioned in "Frenchy" Savard's testimony. It was labeled "milk" when it crossed to the United States.

Harry Low, vice president and general manager of the Carling Brewing and Malting company of London, Ont., was a witness. The company is alleged by the commission to have shipped numerous carloads of beer and other liquors to the United States under false bills of lading.

PAN-AMERICAN FLYERS END TRIP IN WASHINGTON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 2.—(Special)—More than 2,000 persons, including President and Mrs. Coolidge, members of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps and high ranking army and navy officials, turned a welcome to the pan-American flyers who, completing their 20,470 mile "good will" circuit of South America, landed at Holling field late this afternoon.

Promptly at 4:50 o'clock the four great Loening amphibian ships, escorted by fifteen planes, appeared over the horizon and a few minutes later taxied into position. The "Good Will" flight included Maj. Herbert A. Darque, commander, with Lieut. Ennis C. Whitehead in the "New York II," Capt. Arthur E. McDaniel and Lieut. C. McK. Robinson in the "San Antonio," Capt. Ira C. Eaker and Lieut. Muir S. Fairchild in the "San Francisco," and Lieut. Bernard S. Thompson and Lieut. Leonard D. Wellington in the "St. Louis."

President and Mrs. Coolidge had entered the stadium minutes before Secretary of State Kellogg and Secretary of War Davis, as an artillery battery boomed out the presidential salute of 21 guns.

As the flyers jumped from their planes, they were met by Secretary of War Davis and F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation and presented to Secretary of State Kellogg, who, in turn, introduced them to the President.

The introductions over, the President presented each of the flyers with a certificate for the distinguished flying cross and received from Maj. Darque a packet of letters from the executives of the various countries visited.

The tragic crash which cost the lives of two members of the flight at Buenos Aires on Feb. 26, was recalled when it was announced that posthumous awards of the distinguished flying cross have been made to Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John W. Bennett.

PLAN 600 FOOT ROAD TO LINK FOREST TRACTS

Citizens' Group Tells Preserve Program.

A development program for the Cook county forest preserve was announced yesterday by Gen. Abel Davis, chairman of the new organization's finance committee. It included a pledge to preserve the forests as nearly as possible in their virgin state, rather than to adopt conventional landscape gardening methods. This will be in keeping with the plan for the new zoological gardens.

The building program includes the creation of a great forest preserve highway, 600 feet wide, connecting various tracts and making all parts accessible by automobile. The highway would be more than mere automobile road. Striking the program, it would consist of motor drives, parking places, equestrian paths, and walks, all shaded by dense foliage. It would require an addition of 4,000 to 5,000 acres to the preserve to carry out the program.

Gen. Davis spoke before the county finance committee, which promised to contribute $600,000 toward the proposed extension of the preserve from its present area of 35,000 acres to 35,000 acres.

Serving with Gen. Davis, all with cut salary, are Frederick W. Penfield, R. E. Brown, F. W. Brummel, Rufus C. Dawes, John T. McCutcheon, Henry A. Haugan, William S. Elliott, and John C. Lowe.

"Brick and mortar have been the outstanding feature in the development of Chicago parks," Gen. Davis told the members of his committee, "but here we have the opportunity of extending this great county with something more than city building—the preservation of nature itself as a playground adjacent to the greatest commercial and industrial section of the United States.

"Our greatest good cannot come alone from fancy driveways, piers, and cementitious structures. This has been tried in every metropolis of the world. We have an opportunity of preserving and restoring which if delayed too long would have crushed forever the possibility of maintaining a recreation ground where workmen and bankers alike might receive the full blessings of nature."

BRITISH STRIKE BILL STIRS WILD PARLIAMENT ROW

Two Members of Labor Party Ejected.

LONDON, May 2.—(UPI)—While a former cabinet member charged the government is backing organized capital against organized labor in its bill to curb the power of labor unions, Premier Baldwin's ministry who defended the measure, which would make general strikes punishable by law.

Hurling charges at Sir Douglas Hogg, attorney general, during his defense of the bill, J. R. Clynes, a former minister, and Jack Jones, fiery leader of the Laborites, precipitated a scene which will go down in the history of the commons as one of the most bitter battles between Conservatives and Laborites.

Jones finally succeeded in stopping Sir Douglas' speech.

Two Labor Men Ejected.

As the shouting Laborite leader called the attorney general a liar the speaker was forced to eject Hogg's attacker from the hall. Jones turned on the government men as he left, shouting to them that they were "a party lot of dogs." Hogg, he charged, was giving a lecture against socialism.

"He is a minister of the crown," shouted Jones, pointing to Hogg, "put a liar from the top of his head to the sole of his feet. The bill is the Hogg bill and it is well named."

Following election of Jones, Thomas Grifiths, another leader of the opposition, was ousted. Robbers, thieves, blackguards," was his retorting shot at the Conservatives as he left the hall.

Calls It Class Hostility.

Clynes, in the absence of former Labor Premier Ramsay MacDonald, led the Laborites in moving rejection of the bill. He declared that it was "a calculated and deliberate act of class hostility."

"Its purpose and motive," declared Clynes, "is to reduce unions to impotence. The bill is a malignant endeavor on the part of the government to back organized capital against organized labor."

In moving the second reading of the bill, Sir Douglas said the government would be glad to accept any amendment removing defects or clarifying ambiguities in the measure, but it would resist to the utmost any amendment designed to defeat its main principles.

All London Waives Fight.

The fight in the commons, which is expected to continue at least until Friday, was watched throughout London as the bill would make punishable by law such a general strike as tied up industry and traffic in London and vicinity one year ago Wednesday. Londoners, who were forced to walk to work and to have their gas, electricity, and coal put on a ration basis a year before the war, had a hard time with feeling.

Sir Douglas, in defending the bill, quoted a book on "Syndicalism" by Ramsay MacDonald, in which the former Laborites premier was alleged to have said:

"The general strike is not a weapon for raising wages or improving conditions. It's purely speculative and dominated by ideas of revolution."

Replying, Laborite questioners

Hogg said MacDonald was referring to any general strike.

GERMANS RENEW PLEA TO ALLIES TO KEEP PLEDGES

BY SIGRID SCHULTE,
(Chicago Tribune Free Service)

BERLIN, May 2.—A special plea was made to France, London, and Washington yesterday by the German government today to remind the allies of their promises to reduce the occupation forces in the Rhineland to the same number of troops that Germany had before the war. The allies are willing to evacuate 6,000 men, but Germany wants to have more than 70,000 men in the Rhineland and Germany before the war had only 50,000.

Counselor Reid of the German embassy in Paris informed the French foreign office that while Germany realizes fully the internal difficulties Foreign Minister Aristide Briand is experiencing with the French nationalists, when trying to carry out his promise to withdraw troops from the Rhine, Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann is experiencing greater difficulties in Germany. The nationalist members of the German cabinet are demanding the "blind optimism and faith in French promises."

Viscount D'Abernes, former ambassador of Great Britain to Berlin, who died in the German capital last week, was asked by Dr. Stresemann to remind the allies of their promises to reduce the occupation forces in the Rhineland. He called the present situation a thorn in the flesh of Europe. The viscount declined the job and advised the Germans to take up negotiations with the allies.

Bite yourself an Alphabet

Become a Pretzeleer

There's a new order—the Order of Pretzeleers. Any man, woman or child, from 6 to 60 can join. All you need to belong is a set of teeth (first teeth, second teeth, or store teeth) and some O-So-Gud pretzels.

You already have the teeth. Your grocer will supply the pretzels. You initiate yourself by biting out an A. It can be done in two bites, if you are a clever biter. Like this or this:

Bite your A and you're a member—a full fledged pretzeleer privileged to wear a uniform, if you can find one. After you bite your A, eat it. Then go as far as you like up to Z.

All of which is to show you that O-So-Gud pretzels are good to eat and good for those who eat them—with soup, salad, hors d'oeuvres, dessert, between-meals and all the other times you like to eat.

They're baked brittle, baked crisp, baked crunchy. They're easy to digest. They're salty Crunch, crunch . . . smack, smack.

For biting alphabets, and for eating, you'll like pretzels baked by Uneeda Bakers.

Walter H. Brandenburg, 1053 Berneyer, board president, and Mr. Brandenburg announced that Mr. Coath would be his temporary spokesman.

"I have formed no opinion concerning the retention or dismissal of Supt. McAndrew or any other question now before the board," he said.

Other trustees, however, believed that the mayor was confident that Mr. Brandenburg would oppose the superintendent.

When a successor is named for Mrs. Johanna Gregg, whose term has now expired, the mayor will be assured three votes out of eleven.

After that no more appointments can be made until next spring.

Members who favor Supt. McAn-will have a majority until after the superintendent's term expires in Jan-

Mr. Brandenburg is 35 years of age.

He is a member of the Steuben, Gu-

TAXES ON THE FARM.
Ill., April 26.—Your editorial
the farmer against the dire effects of a state income tax does not convince. An income tax still to produce such effects is hardly real possibility today. What the wants is a fair distribution of burden.

For how much the man who not mineral wealth knows about the farmer pays. A tenant possessing the bare necessities work (representing, an investment the city worker in a post-equal responsibility considers what for his wardrobe) is taxed a aging from two to five or more of all he can expect to earn.
a good stiff income tax levied
any exemption and whether any income or not!

A farmer is unfortunate to own a farm he must pay taxes amounting to from thirty per cent of his gross in-even when prices for his products are good. And if he has earned a living of hard work and tried to spend his last days in well, the less said about the portion of his income that goes for taxes
the better it will please your editorial.

WARREN F. GOODSELL.

MAYFLOWER GENTLEMEN.
Forest, Ill., April 26.—Referring statement made by Virginia Fairbank Taubert on April 25, 1927, allow that there were enough persons of royal descent who journeyed in prairie schooners from New England to people the state of Virginia times over. If a nobleman came from England he had to keep it quiet back. I know whereof I speak.
My father came over in the Defense of Miss Fairbank probably would have made the same statement as she did the Mayflower.

I ask how she knows there were men on the Mayflower and also her qualifications for judgment or who is not a gentleman.

DEBATING ISSUES.
April 26.—Referring to the report of Fred Bushey to the members of the R. O. C. in the University of Chicago, when, may I ask, has a public question become a time? Are we ever to get any-near the truth without the clash
and the honest discussion issues? Does any one imagine he truth on that matter? Editorial Taubert speaks of the man who holds his views in thought. How about the American expert who substitutes silence for thought? Debate and discussion could be helpful to all. I believe Bushey has lost an opportunity.

SEIZE RUM AUTO AND SUSPECT IN POLICE KILLING

With the arrest of Buford Chun, 6261 Ellis avenue, as he was speeding toward Chicago last night in an automobile which was concealed 432 bottles of Canadian ale and a pair of automobile license plates, Illinois, 1927, No. 9286, the police at Gary believe they are near a solution of the murder of State Highway Policeman Sam

Mates of Sturgis, Mich. Mates was shot Sunday afternoon when he halted an automobile of the same make bearing the license No. 9286.

Chun is reported that he did not even know that a man had been killed by a driver of the auto.

"A man in a big Packard car came to the garage on the south side, where

I work, early this morning," he said.

"and asked me to drive in a car from

Wilmette for him. I knew there was something in it, but I dare not talk about any killing. The man in the Packard was driving along ahead of me when the police stopped me."

THIS IS NIGHT TO SEE MOVIE OLD IRONSIDES

Screen Ship to Help Real One's Cruise.

This Old Ironsides day in Chicago, from early morning until late in the evening, a spectacular event in behalf of the famous old warship and its new cruise is scheduled.

With the loop prepared for their partial music earlier in the day by window displays and the first consignment of Old Ironsides buttons beginning to arrive, the lapsels of contributors, the bandmarch of the Great Lakes naval training station will swing around the loop late in the afternoon preceded by a column of military and naval men.

C. W. Schick, former state commander of the American Legion, worked out the afternoon parade plans with Captain Charles J. Matchett of the police department's traffic division.

Arrangements for the evening march to Auditorium theater for the final showing of Old Ironsides were made by Mr. Schick with President Edward Kelly of the South Park board.

Capt. Matchett detailed Lieut. Bert Moran and Sergt. William Kubicek to lead the afternoon parade with a squad of mounted police.

Front of the column goes to Capt. Edward Evers, in charge of the 4th naval district. His aides will be ex-Commander Schick of the Legion and Commander A. G. Dibble of the navy. The Great Lakes naval band of twenty-five pieces will follow.

Veterans to Come Next.

Behind the band will be a detachment of naval reserve officers, while Maj. Franklin C. Ridgeway will command the company of sailors from the Woodlawn post of the American Legion. The naval post of the Legion will be in line as will members of "La Societe des 40 Hommes et 3 Chevaux." There will also be a group of reserve officers of the United States army.

Commander Abraham Greenfield of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has organized a squad for the Old Ironsides demonstration. Any other military and naval organizations that want to participate are welcome to join the line of march, ex-Commander Schick announced.

The band will strike up in front of 10 N. W. La Salle street at four o'clock and the parade will head south on La Salle street to Adams street, and east to Dearborn street. Swinging north to Wacker drive and thence to the plaza at Wabash avenue and Wacker drive, the band will give a concert dedicating the plaza and ensemble.

Will Give Banquet for Band.

After the dedication, the band will dine at the Illinois Athletic club as guests of Lt. J. George, the band master. At 7:15 the bandmarch will be discontinued with their military and naval escort of the afternoon and will parade along Michigan avenue to the Auditorium theater.

The first consignment of Old Ironsides buttons to be sold by school children and sent to contributors at the rate of ten cents a button will be distributed from the office of City Controller Charles C. Flanagan this morning.

One of the orders for $100 worth of buttons was from the United Irish society, of which William J. O'Connor is president.

Tribune Display Is Ready.

At a late hour last night the Tribune's Old Ironsides display was completed. It centers around the model of the Constitution made by Elmer Fisch and his two sons. On each side of the miniature warship, under sail, the guns run out, ready for action. There are pictures of Old Ironsides in action and the large oil painting of the frigate Constitution at sunset by George Charney.

In the same building with the Tribune display is one arranged by the Union Trust Company. Included in that display are some scenes painted by the Chicago Historical Society. There is a portion of the original hull of Old Ironsides, a 13 star flag from the war of 1812, and a 42 star American flag.

Secretary Wilbur's Telegram.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur heard of the display by the Union Trust and sent the following telegram to officers of the company, which was received last night:

"I appreciate your interest in aiding our naval training station. Old Ironsides never had known defeat. Now that its fighting days are over, this gallant ship, whose every timber speaks of service and loss of country, must be preserved. It sends forth an eloquent appeal to all America."

Wife No. 2 Says Wife No. 1 Won Mate from Her

A former wife has won back the affection of Charles Ellis, $10,000 a year salesman, of 1906 Mulford avenue, Evanston, his estranged wife, Mrs. Julia Ellis, 422 Melrose avenue, yesterday complained to Superior Judge George Smith. The woman wife said that since her marriage Sept. 25, she has been spending her life savings to meet her husband's alimony payments and now he has moved back to his first love. The court ordered Ellis to pay wife No. 2 $15 a week pending the outcome of her separate maintenance suit and to continue to pay $50 a week to wife No. 1.

THOUSANDS PAY MILLIONS FOR TAX ON REALTY

Property owners, stumping the county building yesterday on the last day to pay taxes on real estate without suffering a penalty, yesterday paid approximately $35,000,000 into the county coffers. About 10,000 bills were paid during the day.

Beginning today, a penalty of one per cent will be added to all bills, in addition to a fine of 25 cents for costs on each lot. Another one per cent is added for each month until July 1, when property is subject to sale for taxes.

County Treasurer George F. Harding's office estimated that approximately $200,000,000 in taxes had been paid so far this year. Exact figures will not be available until clerks have caught up with the eleventh-hour

beginning money, a penalty of one

The awards in journalism included: For the most disinterested and meritorious public service given by an American newspaper during the year, a gold medal costing $500 to the Canton Daily News, Canton, O., "for its brave, patriotic, and effective fight for the purification of municipal politics and for the ending of a vicious state of affairs brought about by collusion between city authorities and the criminal element, a fight which had a tragic result in the assassination of the editor, Don R. Miller."

Novel Prize to Bromfield.

The prize of $1,000 for a novel was awarded to Louis Bromfield, for "Early Spring," his third published book. Last year Sinclair Lewis, who won the prize with "Arrowsmith," refused to accept it.

The prize play was voted to be "In Abraham's Bosom," written by Paul Green, assistant professor of philosophy in the University of North Carolina. The drama prize is $1,000.

The $2,000 prize for the best book of the year upon the history of the United States went to "Pinckney's Treaty, A Study of America's Advantage from Europe's Distress, 1753-1800," the author of which was Samuel Flagg Bemis.

The prize of $1,000 for the best American biography went to Prof. Emory Halloway for "Whiteman; an Interpretation in Narrative."

Policeman Captures Bandit; Pals Escape.

Holding fast to a bundle containing $7,500 belonging to her employers yesterday, a slight 20 year old cashier fought off a robber, one of a band of three who waylaid her on the street until police came to her rescue and captured him.

John J. Urbanak, 1013 West Huron street, the cashier, stopped from the Lender store at 1357 West Chicago avenue, during the noon hours carrying the money to a bank. Near Ashland avenue two men sat in a parked car. As she approached a third man thrust a revolver against her side.

Girl Battles Robber.

"Get into the car," he ordered. "I won't," screamed the girl as she held fast to the bundle while her assailant sought to tear it from her grasp. Pauline St. John, 18, which heard the girl's cry and looked around in time to see the man strike her several times over the head with his revolver. He ran towards the struggling pair and pursued and captured the bandit as he dashed down an alley.

At the West Chicago avenue station he gave his name as Martin Salzman, 39, of 1922 South Spaulding avenue. Mr. Urbanak was not seriously hurt. Salzman's two companions are being hunted.

MURDER CHARGE IS A FRAMEUP,
BIRGER INSISTS

Benton, Ill., May 2.—(UPI)—Expressing confidence that his innocence would be established, Charles Birger, southern Illinois gang leader in jail here, today awaited a hearing this week on a motion for an early trial on a charge of murdering Mayor Joe Adams of West City, a friend of the rival Sheldon gangsters, last Dec. 12.

Birger declared the case against him was a "frameup" and he sought to minimize the plea of guilty of Harvey Thompson, 18, formerly a gangster, who confessed in open court Saturday that he and his brother, Elmo, 17, now dead, had killed Mayor Adams at the command of the gang leader, who paid them $50 each.

MARCONI TO WED
WOMAN OF PAPAL NOBILITY IN JUNE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROMA, May 2.—THE TRIBUNE correspondent learned today that the marriage of Senator Marconi, the wireless wizard, with Countess Maria Casati-Bassi-Scali will be celebrated in the latter part of June. The exact date has not yet been named owing to the necessity for previous arrangements with the ecclesiastical authorities. The religious marriage ceremony will be particularly solemn as the bride belongs to a prominent Roman Catholic family of the papal nobility.

[The roto or papal court decided a short time ago to grant a decree nullifying Senator Marconi's marriage to the Hon. Beatrice O'Brien, from whom the inventor obtained a civil divorce in Florida. The decree probably will be handed down in April.]

To Keep Slim

A few effective suggestions for taking off pounds without being deaf to the stomach's demands

EVERY woman wants to be slender these days. But getting that waist is another matter. Some are starving. Others urge tremendous amounts of exercise. Both are hard and unnecessary.

The two important things are modification of diet (not starvation) and proper elimination through the bowels, kidneys and liver of fat-inhibiting wastes. Do these two, and you'll feel better without much trouble; with no annoyance.

The best eliminator for this purpose, according to many authorities, is nothing more mysterious than old-time Beecham's Pills.

Take them regularly at night. Then a glass of water before breakfast.

Thousands of women now are taking these particular pills because, unlike most laxatives, they work on the bowels, and also tend to promote kidney and liver function. Most eliminate nine times only one or two. Complete elimination is necessary in weight reduction.

As to diet. Use whole wheat and bran breads instead of white. Have a dessert with only one meal a day.

—and that not cake or ice cream. Eat plenty of green vegetables: cabbage, spinach, lettuce, tomatoes, instead of vegetables that grow in the ground. Eat, too, lots of oranges, apples, grapes, etc. Eat lean meats, abstain from fats, like pork and ham.

You feel well fed all the time.

And you are. You feel better, too, in every way. For you are constantly eliminating fat-fostering waste products from your body. Do this for one month. You'll be amazed at how many pounds you can lose. Get 25c Beecham's Pills at any drug store.

UTILITIES BRAND HOME RULE AS BACKWARD STEP

Deny Bill Would Solve Transportation Problem

BY JOHN HERRICK.

Home rule as expressed in pending legislation would mean a backward step, would involve an impossible complexity of utility control, would threaten the stability of public utility securities, and would place an additional burden on the consumer," said representatives for the Insull and other public utility interests yesterday.

"Chicago's transportation problem cannot and will not be settled until Chicago has home rule," said former Corporation Counsel Francis X. Bush and AtL Arthur F. Albert.

Arguments to Utility Committee.

In this fashion the home rule issue was presented to the Illinois state home rule committee of the house public utilities committee by the Sherman bill, hearing arguments on house bill 66, sponsored by Representative David H. McClungage of Peoria, and house bill 46, introduced by Representative Michael R. Durso of Chicago.

The McClungage bill provides that Illinois municipalities may elect by an easier referendum process than the present to take control directly through city offices or an associated committee, of all public utility interests within their boundaries except of the railroads in the interstate business.

The Durso bill applies only to Chicago and only to transportation utilities, giving the city the right to control these.

Atmospheric Corporation Counsel Leon Hirschman explained that he supported the city, but had been unable to get from the administration any definite opinion.

Charges "Virtual Conspiracy."

Willis J. Spanning, commissioner of public property of Springfield and vice president of the Illinois Municipal League, representing 249 municipalities in favor of home rule, charged that the commerce commission virtually entered into a conspiracy when it approved a securities issue by the Illinois Power company, formerly the Springfield Gas and Electric company, "which brought the electric securities above the standard physical issues."

Attorney Patrick J. Lucas, counsel for the Insull interests, cited the recent referendum on home rule which failed to get a majority of votes at the election under the present act, and challenged the proponents of home rule to prove that Chicago wanted it.

SHOOTING VICTIM IS DEAD.
Police are seeking Charles Jones, colored, of 315 South State street, for the shooting of George Mason, also colored, who died from wounds he received April 6.

CLAIM ENOUGH VOTES TO PASS GASOLINE TAX

Auto Clubs to Be on Hand for Fight.

BY PARKER BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Correspondent.]
Springfield, Ill., May 2.—One of the warmer tempered lobbies that ever has been Springfield is expected here for this week's session of the general assembly. It is the opposition to the small gasoline tax bill, which will be the subject of a joint hearing of both houses Wednesday.

The almost increased temperature displayed by motor clubs and other organizations was heightened today by apparently well founded reports that the governor's forces have mustered enough votes to impose the proposed two cent tax, regardless of the extent of the popular opposition.

"There are twenty-nine votes in senate, a clear majority of three, and eighty-four, a majority of seven, in the lower house," said a well informed man this afternoon.

"And if the governor so decides the bill will go through in approximately its present form—that is, without any provisions of a return of a part of the tax proceeds to the counties and cities which contribute it. In the senate, for example, there are twenty-four votes that will stand solidly against any amendment, if it is the administration policy, and in the house, there are enough votes tied up to vote down any major amendment."

No word has been received here as to the number of objectors who will appear against the measure; but the motor clubs of the state are almost a solid unit against it, and while the Chicago Motor club is expected to take the lead in opposing the measure, a number of down state organizations are counted upon for active support.

Another tax measure upon which the administration is said to smile, the be made to pass it this week.

PEKING WAR LORD TO GRAB RAILWAY RUN BY SOVIETS

Russia Expected to Cut Off Siberian Traffic.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927 By The Chicago Tribune]

PEKING, May 2.—Marshal Chang Tei-lin, the Manchurian war lord, is expected immediately to seize the Chinese Eastern railway from the soviets and restore the Russian czarist, M. Ostroff, to the general management. This probably will result in the soviets withdrawing thousands of the railway's employees and possible severance of traffic relations with Siberia. Armed retaliation by the soviets is not excluded, although Harbin telegrams continue to report concentrations of Russian troops, which the consuls are unable to verify.

Greater interest here centers on the possible battle on the Honan-Hupei frontier, where both the Cantonese and northerners are massing troops. Mang Shen-chi, the radical commander, has issued orders to lead the Cantonese expedition, thus superseding Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, who remains on the lower Yangtze with no sign of striking northward with a second column.

Free Love Invades College.
According to reports reaching Peking, the free love preachers of the soviets have reached the Canton Christian college, hitherto abandoned to the Chinese. The men's and women's dormitories have been merged.

The Congregational mission of north China met today in Peking to adopt resolutions for surrender of control to the Chinese. A letter was ordered sent to the home churches stating the Nanjing outrages should not be blamed on the Nationalists, but a small group of radicals. The co-operation of American gunboats in the Nanking bombardment was declared unfortunate.

Urge New Treaties with China.

"This gunboat policy threatens to forfeit the high regard of the Chinese people. We Congregationalists are carrying out, while the Chinese trust of America is changing to distrust," the statement reads. "The political situation in China is not one to despair of but one of increasing hope. We Congregationalists are as one in North China. We are anxious that your American is as one with us in bringing an enactment of treaties on a basis of equality between the nations."

Another Regiment of Marines Lands.
SHANGHAI, May 2.—(AP)—Another regiment of United States marines, consisting of two battalions of troops, an aviation unit, and a battery of artillery, arrived at Shanghai aboard the transport Henderson from San Diego this afternoon. The regiment comprises 1,500 men, commanded by Col. Harold Snyder, recently commandant of the marine barracks, Philadelphia navy yard. The marines were quartered under canvas near the Standard Oil wharf.

WARN SHANGHAI BANKERS

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, May 2.—The Shanghai chamber of commerce today urged an ultimatum by telegraph from Marshal Chang Tei-lin and other northern militarists warning against the granting of the loan of $20,000,000 to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, the Cantonese conservative commander, to finance the Nanking government.

Although the Hankow government has made an apparent about face on labor radicalism, Japanese merchants at Hankow today sent a resolution to Tokyo demanding a firmer attitude toward China owing to the increase of communist activities in central China, particularly in Hunan province.

One hundred and nineteen Japanese refugees from Szechuan province arrived at Hankow today. This completes the evacuation of the Japanese from the upper Yangtze region.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—[Special]—Cautions against indiscriminate foreign loans were expressed at two sessions of an International Conference of American investors, in addressing the opening session of the third Pan-American commercial conference, asserted that the several nations to permit either public or private loans to be made to other countries except for productive purposes would go far toward the prevention of war.

Thomas J. Lamont of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. counseled caution against rash or excessive lending by American investors, particularly to European borrowers, at a dinner tonight of the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Loans Break All Records.

Figures made public during the day by the department of commerce show that foreign loans placed in the United States during April broke all records.

The Pan-American meeting was attended by 400 delegates representing the United States and all the leading countries of Latin-America.

"No nation should itself, or should permit its citizens, to borrow money from foreign countries, and no nation should allow its citizens to lend money to foreign countries unless this money is to be devoted to reproductive enterprises," said Secretary Hoover.

"Out of the wealth and the higher standards of living created from enterprise, however, must come the ability to repay the capital together with the interest, to the borrowing country.

JAPAN CABINET O. K.'S BILL FOR FINANCIAL RELIEF

[Copyright: 1927 by The New York Times.]

TOKIO, May 2.—The cabinet this afternoon approved final drafts of the government's financial relief bills, also the general lines of the statement on domestic and foreign policy, which Premier Tanaka will make in the Diet Thursday. The plan for aid of the Taiwan bank closely follows the late government's proposals, with the difference that the expenditure is sanctioned by the legislature instead of being covered by imperial ordinance.

The bill allows the Bank of Japan to advance 200,000,000 yen ($160,000,000), regardless of security, and will give the Bank of Japan government bonds to compensate any loss sustained.

It is not intended that the Taiwan bank should be a national bank in itself. It will function only in Japan as an ordinary industrial bank. Its foreign exchange business should be taken over by the Yokohama Specie bank and its note issue by the Bank of Japan.

soloist, but also as a quartet musician. Some beautiful classic numbers and selections by a few modern composers make up his program.

Two interesting talks are contained in today's program. During the morning good health and training period, Dr. Hart E. Fisher will talk on "Health Preservation"; at 5:40 o'clock Mrs. J. W. Morrison of the Illinois League of Women Voters will discuss "Illinois Women and Public Health."

Today's baseball game between the Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds will be broadcast by WGN, starting at 2:25 o'clock.

DETAILS OF TODAY'S WGN PROGRAM. [Wave length, 305 meters.]

HEADLINES. [9 to 10 p.m.—Address by President Coolidge before the American Commercial conference; 10 to 11 p.m.—Bad Taylor vs. Abe Atell gold-medal boxing match, direct from the Coliseum.]

Tonight's important boxing match is the Bud Taylor-Alfred Goldstein fight, finale of Jim Mullen's night show at the Coliseum, which brings together two of the country's best known bantams. It will be broadcast direct from ringside, starting at 10:10 o'clock. Quin Ryan will be at the microphone, describing the crowds around the ring and detailing the battle blow by blow. Should one of the preliminary bouts still be unfinished when WGN switches its lines down to the Coliseum, it will also be broadcast. All the bouts are expected to be over by 11 o'clock.

Maj. Moran C. Cooper, the man who ventured into the wilds of Siam to make a motion picture in which the chief actors were wild beasts, will be the headliner of tonight's novelty hour, 8 to 9 o'clock, which will be brought from New York for WGN listeners. Maj. Cooper will describe his exploits in the interior of the little Asiatic kingdom, the stars of the show and Revels will be heard in musical selections chosen to harmonize with the adventure theme of the program.

Now that the Diamond, chief officer of the Jewels of the Crown, has patched up his difficulties with his wife, "Sam 'n Henry," the two comedy boys can go on to new dangers. Tonight's 10 to 10:30 period will chronicle another laughable escapade.

ROUND WORLD SCHOOL CRUISE ENDS; A SUCCESS

New York, May 2.—(Special)—With her 500 student passengers swarming up the rigging sailor fashion, to wave greetings to friends on shore the Holland-American liner Ryndam, with the first round the world colledge cruise arrived at her dock in Hoboken today, completing an eight months voyage of 35,000 miles, which carried her to 33 countries, 47 ports and across five of the seven seas.

Large steam or electric shovels are used in removing the over burden which ranges in depth from ten to fifty feet. Sixteen companies are operating 27 strip mines in Indiana and are producing at the rate of 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 tons a year, about 10 per cent of the state's output. They have signed up with the miners. Similar developments are being planned in Illinois.

Alumni of Industry.
Our expanding hand has chords It has been accomplished for more than 100 years. Volumes of papers have been written on the subject. In three days last week a prominent operator read a diagnosis of the ailments of the mining industry—too many pits, too many workers. It sounded like a fragment from the 1926 United States Coal commission report but—

"This," said the operator as he finished, "is a report of the first joint conference of coal operators and miners held back in 1886. But it's still the story of today in mining."

In these times, too, the coal mines are up against not only the ancient development but a lessened demand for coal, due to the fact that a ton of coal is doing far more work than it did a few years ago. But it's still a factor in the readjustments that are progressing in both the bituminous and anthracite industries.

Energy in Use of Coal.
In the last dozen years or so industry has brought about economies in the use of coal more than equivalent to the entire output of all the Illinois-bituminous fields in a normal year.

Manufacturing has expanded at a tremendous rate, but the demand for coal has not grown at a corresponding rate. More energy is being got out of what coal is burned in industry.

One illustration is railroad consumption. In 1915 106,000,000 tons of coal were shipped into the fire boxes to carry 277,000,000,000 revenue tons one year later.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to the two houses of congress and to the secretary of the navy.

HOW THE CRAFTSMAN OF THE 80'S INFLUENCES ART METAL OF TO-DAY

THE precision of the master craftsman—his careful study of proportion, of design—the infinite attention he paid to little details—these are the modern Art Metal worker's inheritance from the craftsmen of 1888, who first learned to make steel office equipment beautiful as well as practical.

But even the painstaking hand work of the first Art Metal craftsmen could not produce the Art Metal steel equipment of today.

The special cold rolled open hearth steel, the solid bronze fittings perfectly machined, the double strength spot welded construction—these are contributions of the modern Art Metal workers.

Your own eye will tell you that Art Metal is the unusual in steel office equipment. Your pocket-book will be pleasantly surprised at the moderate cost of Art Metal desks, files, safes and shelving.

Yellow Cab

Revolutionized the Cab Industry

Eleven years ago there were very few well-organized cab companies in the entire United States. Cab transportation was a joke as a rule. Cab-drivers were nondescripts—cabs were made-over from pleasure cars—responsibility was a thing unheard of in the cab business.

The advent of the Chicago Yellow Cab Company created a revolution. From the very hour of its birth, it was successful. Then cab companies all over America woke up and sought to build a respectable industry of that which had always been a thoroughly unreliable calling.

The building of Yellow Cab into its present state of efficiency, was an extraordinary undertaking. The people at large had no confidence in efforts along that line. Banks were skeptical and not one of them would loan a dollar to be used in exploiting a cab company. Our own efforts were hooted at, and failure was freely predicted.

We knew, however, that anything as important as cab transportation could succeed if the right effort and the right persistence were employed. In the face of a thousand discouragements, principally from men of finance, we kept on and on, and today, in Yellow Cab, you have the cab transportation which stands out from all other cab service in the world.

There is an old saying that "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country." The people of Chicago take Yellow Cab and its service as a matter of course, and it seems they do not always realize that in this particular branch of industry Chicago is at the head of the world.

Dividends Can't Afford Prejudices

HEN Nurhachu, founder of the Manchu dynasty, designated a rival chieftain to open attack on the Great Wall of China, he silenced protesting favorites with the axiom, "Victory demands the best available weapon."

Napoleon did not know that. Had he played aces instead of fair-haired boys, there would have been no Waterloo.

History, which mainly posts the business of government, thus constantly offers suggestions for the government of business.

When either empires or industries begin to indulge in bigotry, balance sheets reach for the red ink bottle.

Dividends can't afford prejudices.

Success must deal with facts, figures and results, not bias. Adding machines deliver verified verdicts on every investment and expenditure.

The American Weekly solicits advertising on the record—on its audit of circulation, on the distribution of that circulation, and on the market power of that circulation.

The format of the publication and its editorial policy are not open to practical debate.

The answer to any personal opinion on that score is:

—FIVE MILLION CIRCULATION concentrated in the fourteen pivotal distributing points of America and in neighboring towns of ten thousand population and upwards;

—FIVE MILLION CIRCULATION obtained without premiums, clubbing combinations, subscription offers, or sampling;

—FIVE MILLION CIRCULATION at ten to fifteen cents per copy as against competing mediums, ninety per cent of which net less than five cents per copy;

—FIVE MILLION CIRCULATION in the country's highest income territory—in the country's most stable districts—in the country's freest spending communities.

This circulation is a saturating force—not wastefully scattered through plantation ramshackles, dinky little settlements and R. F. D. homes.

The American Weekly is all news stand and news dealer delivery. Its sale is completed within less than forty-eight hours; its energy is focused within set time limits and among folk who draw money from pay-envelope and income every week throughout the year.

They are the cash spenders of the United States—the last to be affected by adverse conditions and the first to inherit increased prosperity.

Droughts, crop failures, mining irregularity, glut or shortage, boll weevil and over-production, least affect their pockets.

They represent the stabilizing nucleus of national trade—the core of prosperity.

Here is solid meat-and-muscle circulation—here is America's most substantial purchasing unit—its maximum earning class—the best trained, the highest skilled segment of national population.

If selling price is an indicator of quality, then the American Weekly is the outstanding quality medium of the weekly field.

If the character of a medium is determined by the character of its circulation, then the social position and earning power of its average reader hallmarks the American Weekly.

If saturation is a determining factor in advertising value, then the American Weekly is the dominant medium in every field.

Measure it by any standard—by volume—by character—by distribution—by records of performance, by the distinction and dignity of its heaviest and most continuous users, and the American Weekly commands right of way, by might of merit, in any appropriation able to afford its rate.

Line for line, reader for reader, result for result, there is no advertising so efficient, so thorough, so cheap.

May we present our proofs to your balance sheets?

Dividends can't afford prejudices.

This is the first of a series of articles by Mr. Woodruff, a recognized turf authority, on Derby prospects.

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Lexington, Ky., May 2.—Five Kentucky Derby colts started in the sixth race this afternoon and when the mile and sixteenth route had been traversed, Bewithus of the E. R. Bradley string had qualified for the Frankfort stakes at Pimlico whence he will be shipped Friday. Boo, Louisiana Derby winner, was back in fourth place behind Nor'Easter and Bonaire after being within striking distance in the early running. General Haldeman was a distant fifth.

Nor'Easter Makes the Pace.

This was the first start of his 3 years old form for Bewithus. It was impressive. The son of Black Toney was hustled around at the start and when General Haldeman swerved was unable to get through on the first turn. Straightened away in the back stretch, he moved up behind the pacemaker Nor'Easter and his stablemate which was running as if able to reach the leader any time he challenged.

Meantime Senator Camden's pace-maker was reeling off a dizzy pace which carried him to the half in :46.45, six furlongs in 1:12 2/3, the mile in 1:37 4/5, and the entire route in 1:44 1/2. Once free of interference Bewithus was never more than two lengths behind Nor'Easter despite this early lead. Bewithus' time was 1:43 1/4.

No Challenges, Falls Back.

Swinging around the stretch turn, Boo gratified his admirers with a challenge which took him on even terms with Nor'Easter, but that was all. Jockey Craver started to take Bewithus through on the rail, but evidently thought better of it and decided to play safe swinging to the outside. When he easily passed his stablemate, he was much too quiet and then Nor'Easter. He was going comfortably at the end with a winning margin of one and one-half lengths. Bonaire, Chicago owned, was out of it early, finished strongly for third place, but pulled up limping badly.

Before the race, local opinion favored Boo, as superior to the stablemate plans previously called for Bewithus, the Earl of the Bosphorus and Eddie Baker and Boo in the Kentucky Derby. On the showing today, it is likely Bewithus will be asked to carry the Isle of Wight colors in the derby race.

WOMAN AWARDED $750 WHEN GOLF CLUB BREAKS JAW

Worthington, 1927: By The New York Times.] LONDON, May 2.—[Special.]—Golf will acquire a new terror as the result of a decision given in a London court today against a woman player who injured her companion while demonstrating the proper way to swing a club.

Miss Mary Oldham was playing a round with Mr. Cleghorn, and Miss Charn, his sister, was merely looking on. Cleghorn drove and sliced. Miss Oldham demonstrated how he should have driven—and Miss Cleghorn fell unconscious with a broken jaw bone.

The judge, himself a golfer, said spectators on golf courses must take such risks as a misdirected ball or a head coming off the club, but one does not expect danger from the swing.

"If the intention of a golf player is seriously who can play best," said the judge during the hearing, "a majority of those who play golf aren't players."

The jury awarded the injured girl $750 damages.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

CHURCH AND HORSES.

Lexington, Ky., May 1.
Friend Don: Perhaps you'll be surprised, Don, but my first unofficial act after reaching home Sunday was to attend church, in company with Tom Cromwell, secretary of the shorthorshired Horsemen, and Jack Dempsey, nationally known race track caller.

I wanted to see the new church of the Good Shepherd, the most prominent religious organization of strictly old English type in the entire south, and for several years I have wanted to meet and talk with its rector, the Rev. Thomas Lever Settle. As we say in the newspaper these days, there's a story back of this.

REV. THOMAS L. SETTLE.
LEXINGTON, KY.—Dr. Settle replied: "Perhaps you'll be surprised, Don, but my first unofficial act after reaching home Sunday was to appear before the legislature.

Surprise No. 2: Dr. Settle replied: "Nothing would please me more."

The senate judiciary committee held an open session. Each side had an hour and one-quarter. The clergymen was allotted the last twelve minutes for the turfmen.

At the expiration of his time the committee asked him to go on. Well, shortening up a bit, the judiciary committee made an amiable reformer and the hostile bill was defeated.

Dr. Settle's views were considered one of the most important factors in saving racing. Some churchmen savagely assailed him, and unsuccessful efforts were launched to remove him from his post.

A few days after the vote four men in a big expensive automobile drove up before the rector's residence and wanted to speak with him.

He declined, replying he had no use for such a car. No one in Lexington ever learned who those men were. But Lexington, too, was appreciative and wished to reward Dr. Settle. He wanted nothing. A home was offered. He declined it. Finally the horsemen decided to present the church with a gift.

In behalf of the church it was accepted. The horsemen sneaked a clause into the deed that it should be the home of the present rector during his lifetime.

But that was not all. Horsemen are a generous lot. They decided to build a new church for Rector Settle. Contributions freely flowed in from all over the country. A total of $190,000 was realized.

On the west side of the plaque reads this inscription: "To the glory of God, this church is given to Him by the lovers of the horse from all over the country as a token of appreciation of their Father's goodness to his children—man, 1928."

Dr. Settle attends the races here nearly every day. Of course, he never makes a bet. But he circulates among the horsemen, talking to them, speaks up for down-and-outers and hears of many needy cases. When he does, he tells his friends, the horsemen: So many a worthy race receives aid through the clergyman from unknown sources and many contribute without knowing where the money goes, except that the cause is well known.

So that is why I wanted to attend the church of the Good Shepherd and talk to Dr. Settle, a fine upstanding chap. Pretty good old world, after all, isn't it?

RAIN POSTPONES CUBS' TILT WITH REDS UNTIL TODAY

Blake and Luque Picked for Mound Duty.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

A belated April shower arrived at Wrigley field yesterday at 2 p.m. and soaked the premises just enough to make it inadvisable for the Cubs and Reds to attempt to kickoff in the rain. The game was postponed until game series. Later the weather took a turn for the better and conditions would have permitted a game, but the athletes had gone home to rest and, anyway, a bargain was struck when the Reds agreed to let the Cubs have another game again will attract many more customers than could be interested by two single struggles.

The cancellation was not decided upon by President William Veeck until after the performers had donned their uniforms, and some of them didn't return to their civilian togues until the weather had turned to a drizzle or so of water.

Most of the Cub pitchers got some beneficial exercises by running around the park and the other members of the troupe did anything that suited their fancy.

Blake to Hurt Today.

If permitting is resumed today Joe McCarthy, manager of the Cubs, will employ Sheriff Blake on the knob. The Reds, according to advance information, supplied by Jack Hendricks, will let Adelio Luque, the Cuban righthander, attempt to fool the home town hitters.

The Cubs will close up their back yard immediately after tomorrow's game and hustle to a train for New York, where they will open against the Giants Friday. Before resuming May 24 the Cubs will have visited the four eastern cities of the circuit and also Cincinnati. One game will be staged at the latter spot May 25.

Up to the seventh, the Morality crew had made just three singled off Lyons, two of these being recorded by Jackie Warner, who is hired by Mr. Navin to play third base, not to hit.

In the seventh the Tigers cut into the Baylor university by two doubles, which permitted the score board man to get something besides a cipher in the Detroit column.

Ted's homer came with two down in the fifth, when the Sox were leading, 1 to 0. It was a one hundred proof blow over the left field wall, so obvious that Fothergill didn't even bother to put on the usual mask in the shade of the fence.

Box Score in First.

Kamm and Hunnfeld gave Lyons a lead in the first few seconds of play. Kamm walked and Hunnfeld drove him in with a double to left center. Metzler was hit by Fothergill, and Falk attempted to sacrifice, but the ball landed in the pitcher's glove. Barrett "bunted" him into a double play that dragged down Kamm.

In the Detroit phase of the first nine, with Fothergill at the plate, he walked Blue, the only pass he created all afternoon. Hunnfeld made a nice catch of McManus' drive, and doubled Blue as the Tiger captain sought to return to first, thus retiring the side.

Hunnfeld in addition to driving in the first run was a big factor in the victory. He fielded brilliantly throughout and when the day was done had handled nine chances perfectly.

It was just as well for the Tigers that Lyons' homer came in the fifth instead of when he was up in the sixth, for in the latter frame the bases were loaded when our young hero took it hand in hand. On this occasion Ted struck out to retire the side.

Kaufmann Back on Team.

Tony Kaufmann returns to the team in Cincinnati late week to help the team's difficulty with the management, is again in good standing and may show on the mound before long. He worked at the park daily after being shipped home, so ought to be in fairly good trim. There is a possibility that McCarthy will let him work against the Indians in the coming series at the Polo grounds.

Jim Cooney, whose leg was injured a week ago at Cincinnati, gradually regains the full use of his limb and may be able to get into one of the games with the Reds. English, who has been understanding the veteran, hasn't done any worse as a fielder, but as he's only twenty years old he has lots of time to learn, so there is no need to worry about the $35,000 the Cub spent to acquire him.

Fight Fund to Gain.

Promoter Muller will donate 25 per cent of his profits to the fund for fighters. The advance sale at noon yesterday was about $15,000 and the promoter expects the gate to run close to $30,000.

After yesterday's gymnasium work-out, Taylor and Goldstein both were under the required pounds. Taylor has been made an 8 to 5 choice and he may enter the ring a 2 to 1 favorite. He intends to show his best as he does not want anything to interfere with his championship bout with Tony Canzoneri of New York in a local hall on June 21.

Ray Rychell, the stocky bantamweight piloted by Tommy Walsh, will have the opportunity of his boxing career in meeting Tony Canzoneri in another ten rounder. If Ray can hold the New York Italian even, he will be in line for other attractive matches.

MAY CONTRACTS ARE OVERSOLD AND GRAINS SOAR

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A heavily oversold condition in May contracts of all grain was disclosed following deliveries of 7,551,000 bu., and with a lack of offerings, prices advanced in a radical manner. May contracts at the top were up 2c. over 4c. and oats 1c. over the limit on Saturday, and while there was liberal credit taking, the over sale was well toward the long figures.

Wheat closed 195c higher, with May $1.775 to $1.93; July, 1.32% to 1.33, and September, $1.39% to $1.38. Corn gained 15c to 35c, with May heading, the latter finishing at 54c under July, against 54c on Saturday. May at the last was 74c, 97c, 98c, 99c, and 100c. Oats were 4c higher, with May, 47c to 47c; July, 47c to 47c, and September, 45c to 46c. Rye was 15c to 16c higher, with May, 51c to 51c, and July, 51c.

Less Pressure on Wheat.

Deliveries of 1,943,000 bu. wheat on May contract passed into strong hands and had considerable influence on sentiment, as did the private crop reports, which suggested a crop of around 397,000,000 bu. winter wheat, compared with 382,000,000 bu. a month ago, and 327,000,000 bu. harvested last year. There was a rush of short covering in all deliveries, as well as a movement buying through commission houses in the July and September, and sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the way up.

General run of crop comments from the southwest were somewhat less favorable, and the trade as a whole had a more friendly feeling toward the buying side. It was reported that charters had been made to load 430,000 bu. red winter wheat at the time they were cancellations of warehouse receipts for more than 200,000 bu. during the day.

Statistics were generally bullish, the domestic visible supply decreasing 1,632,

RAISE WHEAT ESTIMATES

Around 3,132,000 acres of winter wheat or 7.1 per cent of the area sown last fall, were harvested according to the latest four private crop estimates. Area left for harvest is 38,800,000 acres, compared with 36,910,000 acres last year. Reduction in Kansas was around 1,800,000 acres. Condition averaged 86.3, compared with 85.5 by the government a month ago, and 84.4 in April. A month ago, 53.7. Crop is estimated at 307,000,000 bu., or about 15,000,000 bu. above the average of 37.2, compared with 36.4 a month ago, and 31.5 last year. Yield is estimated at 46,000,000 bu., against 45,000,000 bu. harvested in 1926. Details on winter wheat have not been fully worked out in Kansas, and crop:

MOTOR INDUSTRY IS FINDING RIVAL IN REFRIGERATION

BY O. A. MATHER.
The automobile has been the badge of American prosperity. Now it faces a rival—the electric refrigerator.
To the extent to which these modern conveniences are being adopted was the subject of two bits of news yesterday.
The amount of capital and numbers of workers now involved in the nation's use of automobiles are greater than similar items for the railroad, according to a report submitted at the meeting of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association at Hot Springs, Ark. The motor vehicle industry is ranked first rank among our national industries. Capital investment in such vehicles and in automobile highways exceeds that invested in railroads. About 8 per cent of all personal vehicles employed are in the automotive field.

Passenger Traffic Cut.
Freight hauling by motor truck offers keenly competition to the railroads, which last year hauled about fifty times
as much as did trucks. But automobile and motor coaches have seriously reduced railroad passenger traffic.
Automobile passenger miles last year about three and one-half times those adopting the motor vehicle as supplier of the railroads. But the railroads are still a first rank supplier of the automobile, electric light and power plant owned by the city.

He's Tired Business Man-Tired of Having
His Wife Drop In!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Tired Business Man" asks the floor today. His tire isn't that flat old one we women used to swallow piecemeal before we became kinda tired business men ourselves. No, this one is just "darned tired" of his wife dropping in to his office afternoons and a five o'clock tea date." Bad for the office morale, he calls it. Worse for the domestic morale, we suspect, because Miss Smith, the immensely efficient and most personable looking young secretary, comes in for a great deal of unnecessary criticism on the evenings when the wife drops in.

"I don't butt in on her tea, or bridges, or her domestic management," says the late one. "I never inquire how Hilda can afford to look like a million dollars on her salary as domestic. For the luuvvve tell women to let men run their business uninterrupted and play fair about the young wives who have no employ."

"I'll be obliged to call off. But if the mate himself cannot handle the buttonhole wife I doubt if she's listen-to me. With a certain kind of wife the situation is trying enough to drive a man to fury. If it is hinted that against her. You cannot reason with an unreasonable woman. And of course you can't kill her or even give her the hairbrush application that has been known to bring other unruly children to time. You can't hang out a "Do Not Be Disturbed" sign on the office door or heaven alone knows what she'd think. What can you do, anyway, with a nuisance of a wife?

Happy Tunes for Wedding Belles

Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondent]—If this is a "a bartered bride," her price must have been pearls. Her white array of pearl embroidered lace is what makes the beauty and uniqueness of this inherently simple wedding gown.

Look for the abbreviation of the date the dress might have been copied from the wardrobe of Baronessina, wife of Richard Cour de Lion, so closely do they follow the lines advocated by masters of the Moyen Age. Notice how the long train is cut as part of the sleeveless tunic which, with an exuberant movement in front, covers the skirt. The later is cut in scalloped scallops and this device, together with the pearl bands, carries decorative treatment. Pearls edge the cap from which the veil descends, fitting the low waist and border the neck and train. White satin or heavy silk crepe should be the material selected.

The bride's train is always the focal point of her costume. This may be combined with the veil. A most charming idea, dropped from a cap of lace and tulle a long train of delicate lace. Soft folds of tulle at the side of the cap suggested the face of a bode of heavy lace was set with deep point at one side and under this irregular waist line came a full gathered skirt of white silk. The train was sheer.

Such a frock is extremely practical —and after all, the wisest bride does not think for the morrow. For the cap lifted off, the frock becomes a dainty and youthful dance outfit without encumbering train. More completely dedicated to the dancing is a dress of sleeveless Calais lace with a long train coat train and bought together at the waist by a jeweled over a slip of silver cloth.

This fastened to a jeweled head dress makes the veil.

Bright Sayings
of the Children

June, aged 2, and her daddy were watching me do something or other and her daddy was idly singing some song in his pocket. June went over to him and said, "Daddy, let me see your change."

June was thinking he told her he hadn't any change whereupon she looked so surprised and said,

"Way, I heard it talk!"
